

Happy Teachers' Day!

On this special day, ILTI would like to express my heartfelt gratitude and extend our warmest wishes to all the incredible teachers out there. You play an invaluable role in shaping the minds and futures of countless students, and your dedication and hard work deserve to be celebrated may you continue to inspire, empower, and touch the lives of many more students.

Wishing you a joyous Teachers' Day filled with love, appreciation, and well-deserved recognition. Thank you, teachers..

I was a stone and now I am unique gem.

I was water and now I am the sea.

I was a seed and now I am a tree.

I was a paper and now I am a book.

I was a brick and now I am a house.

I was a sand and now I am the glass.

Although 'Teacher' is just a simple word, it means important to me.

Without 'Teacher', there is no meaning for education, I won't be the people who I wish to be. Thanks for your sacrifice.

Happy Teacher's Day

By Chin Wei Kee (UCAE)